- Close cooperation with a creative team of marketing experts, developers, quality assurance engineers and graphic designers

Required skills & experience:

- Ideally, a degree in (media) computer science or comparable education
- Experience in programming of Cocoa Touch applications in Objective-C and/or Swift and knowledge of the related APIs (Cocoa Touch, Cocoa, UIKit, CoreFoundation, CoreGraphics, etc)
- Experience with development and debugging tools, such as Xcode and Git
- Ideally, initial knowledge of performance analysis and tuning
- Ideally, initial experiences with game engines
- Strong object oriented design and analysis skills
- Passion for writing simple, elegant software that is easy and fun to use
- Good knowledge of German or English

We offer:

- A challenging, but also promoting working atmosphere
- Very good development opportunities
- Responsible tasks, fast decision-making process and space for the implementation of your own ideas
- A team-oriented working process, which visibly incorporates the results of your work
- Unique expertise in the development of cross platform games

If you are interested in this unique opportunity, please send your complete application with salary expectations and 1-2 sample codes in a PDF file to jobs@xyrality.com. We would appreciate information, where our job advertisement caught your attention.
